GREAT EXPOSITION IN FAR WEST OPENS

arr. Hill declared this to be the most wasteful country on earth in its administrative features as well as in its treatment of natural resources, and said that the discarded standard of economy in its affairs must be rethe curtainent of reterior care in the care who are four through assist not all emission and the rage of spending greaters that should be left in the pocksomity efficiency in the departments, but reforms now postponed by the task of raising and the rage of spending great stains and the rage of spending great stains that should be left in the pockies of the people."

In opening his address, Mr. Hill having committed committed committed committed contact many evidences of man's process in self-deviopment and toward his development of the earth. The people who found to always live in peace in could not always live in peace in color of always live in peace in the people who close personal contact. Men in our day move towards their material advances principally through the struggle for wealth. The comforts and luxuries, that have been won from the earth are symbols of greater things behind. An exhibit of the works of industry, science and art is, therefore, a numan document of high and convincing value."

Mr. Hill emphasized the necessity of forest conservation, care of the soil, preservation of the fisheries, conservation of natural resources, and said:

"The exhibition of your intelligence was not one in which the defendants could be removed from their own trial that the indictment was defective on its face, that the offense was not one in which the defendants could be removed from their own trial.

The exposition has been financed by the Northwest. Seattle subscribed $550,000 in one day, and later made it $350,000. Still later a bond issue of $350,000 was taken up overnight. The state of Washington appropriated $1,000,000 with the provise that not less than $500,000 of the amount should go into permanent buildings, to revert to the University of the State of Washington. Oregon, California, Canada, Japan, China, Idaho and other States and nations assisted with liberal appropriations for buildings and exhibits, and the United States government appropriated $600,000 for its own building, and for the exploitation of the Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska and the fisheries.

Immigration From United States to Canada Increases.
WINNIPEG, MAN., June 1.—The report of the Immigration Department for the fiscal, year has been issued. The year closed March 31. The report contains statistics for the whole of Canada, and shows that immigration through ocean ports from European countries decreased 117,081 persons from the preceding year. This decline is attributed to restrictive legislation aimed at undestrable immigrants. It has not seriously affected the inrush from the British Isles.

Immigration from the United States not only shows an increase, but it breaks all records for immigration from across the southern border. In the twelve months prior to March 31 159, 832 settlers from the United States came into Canada, bringing with them money and effects the estimated value of which was $50,000,000.

Chesapeake and Ohio Outlines Plan to Chamber Which Will Expedite Movement.

J. W. Knapp, general superintendent; E. J. King, division superintendent, and George A. Warthen, agent, of the Chesapeake and Ohio Rallway, appeared before the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon and outlined a plan of their railroad, which has been under consideration for some time in regard to the handling of incoming and outgoing freight. Roughly, it means that all inbound freight, such as is handled in the depots in less than carlots, will be delivered at the Ninth Street depot, irrespective of the point of shipment and that all shipments of this class, irrespective of the destination, outgoing, will be loaded at the depot at Seventeenth and Broad Streets, thus removing the confusion that has hereiofore prevailed from the fact that a portion of each class has been handled at both depots.

The plan met with the general ap-W. Knapp, general superintendent
